

HE SHOWS HIS LOVE FOR HIS COUNTRY

SENOR SAGASTA ADVISED NEW CONSERVATIVE MINISTRY.

Assassins Must Not Rule—Murderer Confesses That He Killed Premier Canovas to Avenge the Barcelona Anarchists—Cubans Regret the Assassination.

Madrid, Aug. 10.—In the course of an interview Senor Sagasta, the liberal leader, said: "The country's politics must not depend upon an assassin."

SENOR SAGASTA.

The conservatives ought to remain in power under the guidance of men like Marshal Campos, Senor Pidal and Senor Elduayen. Nevertheless, if the queen regent appeals to the liberals, they are ready to respond."

Golli, the assassin, has confessed that he killed Senor Canovas to avenge the Barcelona anarchists and the insurgent leader, Don Jose Rizal, who was executed at Manila, Philippine islands, on Dec. 30 last, as the instigator of the Philippine rebellion. Dr. Rizal denied that he was a rebel leader, but he admitted that he had drawn up the statutes of the Philippine league.

It appears that Golli, the assassin, represented himself as a correspondent of El Populo. The prisoner cannot be tried under the laws providing for the trial and punishment of anarchists, as this law is so framed that a person prosecuted under its provisions must have used or attempted to use explosives in the commission or attempt to commit the crime charged against him. However, there is no doubt Golli will be summarily tried and sentenced. The public demands the adoption of stringent measures against anarchists and also against those who are in sympathy with them.

Golli confesses that he followed Senor Canovas to church and to other places, waiting for an opportunity when he could surely accomplish his purpose. He says he regrets that he has been unable to kill Gen. Polavieja, who was governor-general of the Philippines when Dr. Rizal was executed last December. He regards him as the murderer of Rizal.

The cabinet sat until 2 o'clock Monday morning and decided to publish in the Official Gazette the appointment of Lieut.-Gen. Don Marcelo de Azcarra, the minister for war, as premier ad interim. Senor Sagasta has postponed his projected visit to this city.

In anticipation of possible disturbances at Barcelona, the police force of that city has been re-enforced.

There is a great deal of speculation as to the effect of the loss of Canovas not countenance murder, and would denounce any act that would leave a blot upon the history of our revolution; and because we feel that by his death we will lose as our arch-enemy by far the best man for us that Spain could have in Cuba. It was Canovas who kept Weyler on the island when all others were anxious for his recall. We believe that the death of Canovas will result in the recall of Weyler. A change will be disadvantageous to us for many reasons.

"Weyler is a coward and never goes into the field. We are not obliged to meet him in large engagements. We can harass the Spanish soldiery and keep them marching about from place to place with a man like Weyler at their head. This will sicken and kill off the troops and make the cost to Spain very great. Weyler has served us and our cause well by his mad acts of inhumanity."

Republicans Are On the Alert.
Madrid, Aug. 10.—Despite the truce that has been established by the leaders of the Parliamentary groups the government is perturbed by the silent activity of the Republicans, who appear to believe that their opportunity has arrived and are taking measures accordingly. The government is consequently increasing the military and police precautions which were taken immediately after the assassination of the Prime Minister became known.

Queen Victoria's Sympathy.
London, Aug. 10.—The assassination of Prime Minister Canovas forms a striking contrast with the attempts of exiled Spanish anarchists here to enlist public sympathy and raise subscriptions. The news of the assassination was telegraphed instantly to the queen, who sent an affectionate message to the queen regent of Spain, expressing her horror and deep sympathy; also to Lord Salisbury, who telegraphed Sir Henry Drummond-Wolfe ordering the expression of the sympathy of the British government.

Deplored by Grover Cleveland.
Buzard's Bay, Mass., Aug. 10.—Ex-President Cleveland learned of the assassination of Senor Canovas Monday. In reply to a query he said: "I very much deplore the shocking death of the eminent statesman who has fallen a victim to anarchistic rage. The world's civilization may well contemplate the terrible event with gloomy apprehension."

London Police Alarmed.
London, Aug. 10.—The assassination of the prime minister of Spain has caused great excitement and activity among the police of all branches in this city. All the men absent on leave have been recalled and constant communications are going on between the British police headquarters here, Scotland Yard, and the headquarters of the Spanish police at Madrid.

PRESIDENT PALMA.

land Yard, and the headquarters of the Spanish police at Madrid.

Condolence from Washington.
Washington, Aug. 10.—Official notice of the killing of the Spanish premier reached the state department Monday morning. The secretary of state immediately caused to be drafted a message of condolence, which was forwarded to Minister Taylor, after having been submitted by telegraph to President McKinley.

RICH FIND IS MADE.

Excitement in Black Hills Over Gold on Ragged Top.

Deadwood, S. D., Aug. 10.—Gold discoveries of unparalleled richness are not alone confined to the Klondyke region of the frozen north, as has been shown by the uncovering on the A. J. Smith group of claims in Ragged Top of a body of ore assaying $10.48 per ton in gold. There are six claims in the group of sixty-five acres and the ore body cuts them all.

There is sufficient ore in sight to keep the present force of miners at work for many months, and that it is one of the richest things ever struck on the hills no one who examined it for a moment doubts. The new find has caused no little excitement here, and has served in a measure to allay the Klondyke fever, which has taken hold of so many Hills people.

Ready to Stand Trial.

Cincinnati, Ohio, Aug. 10.—Umpire Tim Hurst, who at a baseball game here one day last week hurled a beer glass into the rooters' stand, badly injuring a spectator, reported to police headquarters here yesterday, and was told to appear for trial in the police court Wednesday.

THROUGH A BRIDGE THE CARS PLUNGE

A FREIGHT TRAIN FALLS INTO THE WABASH RIVER.

Accident Near Portland, Ind.—Many of the Train Hands Seriously Hurt—One Death Is Likely—A Passenger Train Derailed at Coldwater, Ohio.

Portland, Ind., Aug. 10.—Without a moment's warning engine and tender No. 34 and six loaded cars of the south-bound Grand Rapids & Indiana local freight plunged through the trestle of the Wabash river, one and one-half miles north of here, about 11 o'clock Monday. The engine and tender, which were nearly across, dropped into the river. The engine turned over and lay on its side. Engineer Barney Reidt and Fireman J. Gallagher went down with the engine. Reidt had his right leg broken and his left leg so badly crushed that amputation was necessary. He was also burned by escaping steam and cut around the head and face. He lives in Fort Wayne.

Fireman Gallagher escaped with a sprained ankle. Brakeman James Clifford received several severe cuts. Head Brakeman Schlich was hurt. A lad who boarded the train at Berne is missing, and it is supposed that his body lies in the water beneath the wreckage. A wreck train from Fort Wayne arrived as soon as possible.

The south-bound Grand Rapids & Indiana passenger train, which was compelled to make a detour through Ohio on account of the Wabash river wreck, was derailed at Coldwater, Ohio, nearly the entire train leaving the track. Engineer Brown was instantly killed. He was showing Engineer Anderson the way. Engineer Anderson and Fireman Golden were hurt.

Severe Storm at Marquette.
Marquette, Mich., Aug. 10.—One of the severest electrical storms Marquette has ever experienced prevailed here for an hour Monday afternoon. Five persons had a narrow escape from death by lightning stroke, and four buildings were struck. The barn and warehouse of Meeske's brewery caught fire from lightning and burned to the ground, entailing a total loss on buildings and contents of $8,000; covered by $6,000 insurance.

Cyclone Near Aurora, Ill.
Aurora, Ill., Aug. 10.—A cyclone devastated a strip of country southeast of town Monday afternoon, flattening corn fields, uprooting trees and damaging buildings. A violent hailstorm completed the work of destruction, and the farmers will be heavy losers. Much stock is reported killed. In the city trees were uprooted and wires blown down, and general consternation reigned for a time.

SERIOUS CLASH IN KANSAS.

State Officials Disobey an Order of the Federal Court.

Topeka, Kan., Aug. 10.—The long threatened clash between the United States courts and the authorities of the state of Kansas came Monday, when Attorney General Boyle, acting upon the advice and with the concurrence, of the state administration, took action in the state courts in open defiance of the federal authorities.

Kansas City, Aug. 10.—The Times prints an interview with Attorney General Boyle of Kansas, as to the issue raised between the Kansas authorities and the federal courts. The attorney general says he has no desire to defy anyone, but that he is simply acting according to his duty under the laws of Kansas. He explains that the state laws are plain that no foreign insurance company shall do business in the state without a license from the superintendent of insurance.

Armenians Kill 200 Turks.
Constantinople, Aug. 10.—An official dispatch received here says several thousand Armenian agitators from Persia invaded Turkey last Friday. They killed two hundred of the Migrik tribe, including women and children. The wife of the chief was put to death with the most cruel tortures, and several other victims had their noses and ears cut off.

Another Stay for Durrant.

San Francisco, Cal., Aug. 10.—Upon motion of Eugene F. Duprey, counsel for Durrant, the Supreme Court ordered that the argument upon appeal from the order of Judge Bahers, setting June 9 last as the date of the execution of the murderer be postponed until the Supreme Court of the United States shall have passed upon the matter now before it.

Hundred Cured by Faith.

Old Orchard, Me., Aug. 10.—The interest in the Christian alliance meetings continues. The marvelous donations of Sunday is not the most wonderful thing in connection with the meeting—more than a hundred people claim to have been cured by faith, and in many cases serious ailments have been notably improved.

Bar Nominates Men.

Ishpeming, Mich., Aug. 10.—President Mudge and Secretary Wasley, in addressing a large miners' meeting last night, told the men that the union had decided that none of its members shall work with nonunion men after Aug. 23, and that those who still refuse to join the union will be driven out.

DEPUTIES ON DUTY IN SUCKER STATE

USUAL QUIET PREVAILED AT COFFEEN, ILL.

An Outburst Anticipated—Strike Leaders Encouraged by the Situation in West Virginia—Iowa Miners Will Remain at Work—Springfield Scale Refused.

Hillsboro, Ill., Aug. 10.—The Coffeen mine ran as usual Monday, nearly all the miners working. The situation is materially improved and a feeling of relief is manifested, although there is yet danger if the strikers rally. The presence of 200 deputy sheriffs, heavily armed with rifles and shot guns under charge of Sheriff Randle is relied on to keep order.

MINERS GAIN IN WEST VIRGINIA.

Strike Leaders Encouraged by Developments of the Day.

Wheeling, W. Va., Aug. 10.—Monday there was a decided forward movement in the coal strike in West Virginia, and the leaders are planning with more heart than for a week. In the Kanawha valley and in the Wheeling district the tactics which have been used so successfully in the Pittsburgh district, have been put to use. In the valley there are 400 more men out to-day than Saturday.

In Fairmont J. W. Rea and James Woods have taken part, and will play a big card on Wednesday. Rea declares he will make trouble for the Fairmont operators, who, he says, have tried to incite the miners to riot by sending whisky and beer surreptitiously to the meetings held near the Monongah mines. The 600 men at Clarksburg are still out, and Rea believes Fairmont can be brought out this week.

Iowa Miners Remain at Work.

Ottumwa, Iowa, Aug. 10.—At the meeting of Iowa miners here Monday it was decided not to strike out of sympathy for the easterners, but an assessment of 25 cents a week on all men for aid was made. The meeting was poorly attended, only one-fourth of the miners in the state being represented. A resolution was passed ordering notices sent out to all camps in the state for another meeting at Oskaloosa, Aug. 19. If two-thirds of the mines in the state signify their intention to send delegates the meeting will be held. If not it will be called off.

Strikers Arrested for Riot.

Pittsburg, Pa., Aug. 10.—Monday a number of striking miners were arrested. At Willock, on the Wheeling division of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, Henry Ulrich, Emil Nagel, Henry Huser and Gustave Ring, employed by the Monongahela Gas Coal company, participated in a riot on July 26. Thomas E. Ulrich, boss machinist at the mine, was seriously injured. He claims Ulrich struck him over the head with a club and Nagel hit him with his fist. There are warrants out for twenty other strikers who are said to have been implicated in the trouble.

Canton Sheriff Asked for Aid.

Canton, Ill., Aug. 10.—Sheriff Laws has been asked for aid to protect the miners and mine property of the Sunday Creek Mining company at Middle Grove. Sheriff Laws is prepared to swear in any number of deputies. All is quiet at the Dunfermline mines. The miners are satisfied with the scale made out at Springfield Friday.

Refuse Springfield Scale.

Chicago, Aug. 10.—Operators of bituminous coal mines in the northern part of Illinois decided not to recognize the new scale adopted at the miners' convention held in Springfield last week. From the attitude assumed by the operators present at the meeting it is concluded that the miners will be compelled to remain idle indefinitely.

Try to Bring Out Evansville.

Evansville, Ind., Aug. 10.—This city is the mecca of marching miners. Every miner in the state is supposed to be out on a strike, except here and at Newburg, a little place about ten miles from here. The indications are that all will come out.

Will Seek Decatur Miners.

Lincoln, Ill., Aug. 10.—The miners of the Lincoln coal shafts will march to Mount Pulaski and Decatur Wednesday morning to attempt to induce the miners at those places to join in the strike.

BIG GAIN IN EXPORTS.

Balance of Trade Is in Favor of the United States.

Washington, Aug. 10.—The revised statistics of imports and exports for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1897, show a large increase in the exports over the previous year and a large increase in the balance of trade in favor of this country, notwithstanding the heavy importations in anticipation of the enactment of the Dingley law.

The exports for the year amounted to the enormous sum of $1,030,001,300, against $863,200,487 for the year ending June 30, 1896. The imports amounted to $754,717,609, against $779,724,014 for 1896, and the balance of trade in favor of the United States was $275,283,691, against $85,476,213 for 1896.

TO SAVE HINSHAW.

Convict Noah Baney Paroled from Prison for That Purpose.

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 10.—Noah Baney, convict, under the watchful eye of an old guard, left the state's prison at Michigan City to-day for five days, that he may have an opportunity to demonstrate the truthfulness of his story that the Rev. William T. Hinshaw is not guilty of the murder of his wife, Thurza Hinshaw, for which he is serving a life sentence.

The story of Noah Baney is that the murder of Thurza Hinshaw was committed by John Whitney and Guy Van Tassel, of this city, who are now confined in the state's prison. Baney declares that he saw the two men after the "job," and that they told him all about it. Whitney and Van Tassel stoutly deny that they have any knowledge of the crime. They brand Baney as a common liar, who is either seeking notoriety or who hopes to secure his own freedom.

Fear a Race War in Florida.

St. Augustine, Fla., Aug. 10.—Great excitement was caused here at midnight Sunday by the news that the two companies here, the guards and light infantry, were ordered to hold themselves in readiness for instant service. The companies are held in case of any trouble at Key West, which is feared, at the trial of some negroes there. The negroes have been very insolent and overbearing, and the county commissioners recently received ten new rifles for the police and the citizens. This stirred up the negroes, and it is claimed that they made many threats as to what they would do if the prisoners were not accorded a fair trial. This irritated the whites, and they began preparing for trouble. The citizens generally are armed, and are ready this time to meet any outbreak that the negroes may attempt.

Tax Board Appeals to Law.

Indianapolis, Aug. 10.—The state board of tax commissioners Monday asked the attorney general for an opinion on the question of assessing the Indiana Manufacturing Company on its capital stock of $360,000. Governor Mount said that the board will be guided by that opinion. As the attorney general appeared before the board and argued in favor of the assessment, regardless of Judge Baker's injunction, the board knows that he will recommend the assessment, and the issue is now certain to be made between the board and the federal court.

Fighting on the Nile.

Cairo, Aug. 10.—The column of troops commanded by Colonel Hunter of the Anglo-Egyptian expedition up the Nile attacked Abu Hamid at 5:30 o'clock on the morning of Aug. 7 after eighteen hours' march. Some severe house to house fighting followed and the place was captured by the expedition by force. Two British officers were killed during the fighting.

Leland the Man.

Des Moines, Iowa, Aug. 10.—S. P. Leland accepts Dr. E. L. Eaton's place on the prohibition ticket for governor and will cancel all dates for lectures after Aug. 30 and will stump the state during September and October. Eaton was nominated for governor, but was found to be ineligible on account of his limited residence here.

Boat Blows Up Near Cairo, Ill.

Cairo, Ill., Aug. 10.—Capt. B. B. Bradley's towboat Fritz blew up ten miles below here at 7 o'clock Monday evening. Ten men, all negro roustabouts, are missing and four are badly scalded. The Fritz was on her way here from O'Brien's Landing with a tow of logs when her flues collapsed.

CRUEL WORK DONE WITH A BLUDGEON

MAN KNOCKED SENSELESS AND WILL DIE.

Found Beside the Road in an Unconscious Condition, and Cannot Recover—People Threaten to Lynch a Man Arrested on Suspicion—Leader Was Lacking.

Milwaukee, Aug. 10.—[Special]—Louis Hennig, a well known young man, was murderously assaulted early yesterday morning in the town of Evanswood. He was found on the road nearly dead. He has many wounds on his head and his face had been badly cut. He was brought here and it was discovered that his skull was fractured in two places. A man named Bellington was arrested today on the charge of committing the assault. He was bound over for examination in $5,000 bonds.

Later a crowd of farmers gathered and threatened to lynch him, but the leader was lacking.

Mrs. Bellin sought the bedside of Hennig to plead with him, but he did not recover consciousness long enough to recognize her. He is in bad shape and will probably die.

A SENSATION AT MILWAUKEE

Mayor Will Have a Grand Jury Investigate Alleged Bribery.

Milwaukee, Aug. 10.—[Special]—Mayor Rauschenberger this morning took steps to call a grand jury to investigate the charge of bribery in regard to the letting of the city contract from the city, and the establishment of the plant by the city.

One alderman declared that he had been approached and offered $30,000 for his vote and more if necessary.

The claim is made that a big boodling scheme is on foot, the the mayor is determined to make a thorough investigation.

Should the grand jury be called a big sensation is expected.

Labor Law to Be Tested.

Madison, Wis., Aug. 10.—The law passed by the legislature last winter requiring that prison-made goods from other states sold in Wisconsin must be labeled is to be tested in the courts. The attorney general has prepared the papers in a test case at the request of Labor Commissioner Erickson, and a dealer who is charged with violating the law will be arrested shortly.

MAY BE ANOTHER STRIKE.

Anthracite Coal Diggers Are Now Uneasy.

Pittsburg, Pa., Aug. 10.—On the success or failure of the bituminous coal miners' strike depends the inception of a movement by the anthracite miners for higher wages and better conditions.

District President Patrick Dolan and the other officials of the United Mine Workers' organization have received several letters within the last few days from different parts of the Pennsylvania anthracite coal region asking for information on the outlook for the big strike and wanting to know what assurances of victory the men have. If the bituminous miners win the anthracite diggers think they would have an equal chance of securing an advance in wages. If the present strike is lost the attempt for an advance will not be made in the anthracite region.

The anthracite miners are poorly organized. At one time their union was strong, but disastrous strikes in which the men were beaten resulted in a gradual shrinkage in the union.

MINERS GET NO CASH.

Pay of De Armit Men Who Attended Meeting Held Back.

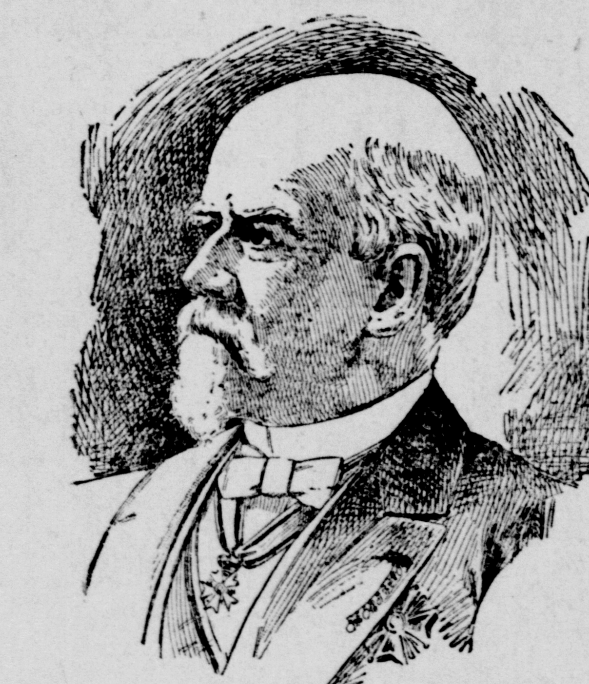

Pittsburg, Pa., Aug. 10.—All the miners of the New York and Cleveland Gas Coal Company who are still at work were paid Monday but those who struck did not receive any money, the company insisting upon the terms of the contract by which the men agreed to forfeit all money due them in case they refused to work. All the miners who can give a reasonable excuse for attending any of the meetings will be paid. The company has the names of all the men who have been at these meetings and took part in any of the demonstrations. Unless they can give a satisfactory explanation they will get no money.

His Father Makes Good $3,000.

Chester, Ill., Aug. 10.—A letter received by R. E. Sprigg, attorney for Frank Havill, of Mount Carmel, father of Ora Havill, the alleged defaulting clerk of the Chester prison, and his bondsman for $3,000, states that a check for the full amount would be sent. As the alleged default is in the neighborhood of $8,000 ex-Warden Schneider's bondsman will probably be called upon to pay the rest of the reported shortage.

Big Fire at Havana, Ill.

Havana, Ill., Aug. 10.—The Turner-Hudnut elevator at this place burned Monday. There was from 40,000 to 80,000 bushels of grain in the structure. A conservative estimate places the loss at $35,000; insurance about $13,000.

GENERAL AZCARRAGA.

upon the conservative party. Gen. Azcarra has acquired great popularity and prestige through his skill in organizing the country's resources for the Cuban and Philippine campaigns, and he may be able to keep the party together. But many good judges take a gloomy view of the situation, and lament the absence of civil statesmen of the caliber of Canovas.

CUBANS REGRET THE MURDER.

Afraid That the Recall of Weyler Will Hurt Their Cause.

Boston, Mass., Aug. 10.—Joseph Monzon, representative of the Cuban junta in this city, discussing the violent death of Canovas, said:

"I am certain that no Cuban or any Cuban sympathizers had anything to do with the murderous act. The Cubans do not believe in murder. We were not fighting Canovas or any other man in Spain. We are fighting the Spanish government, and more particularly the Spanish pocket. We deplore the death of Canovas, because we do Contract For Oil Lamps.

Ald. Jones, of the lighting committee, stated that the committee had been negotiating with the Globe Light and Power company of Chicago, and had received the following proposition:

Chicago, July 28, 1897. Honorable Mayor and Council, Janesville, Wis. Gentlemen—We respectfully submit the following for your consideration:

We will furnish 100 or more of our standard lamps and place upon the iron posts owned by the city of Janesville, light the same every night in the year from sundown until 2 o'clock a. m., for the sum of $14 per lamp per year, using what we term our Plate burner, contract to be for three years.

This proposition covers every item of expense for furnishing and placing upon the posts, lighting, extinguishing, cleaning, all repairs and material, and we guarantee to give you a first-class light at all times, and guarantee satisfaction.

You shall have the right to go to the lighters, if there is any cause for complaint and notify them to rectify the trouble or cause at once and if they do not attend to it immediately, if you will notify us by wire or postal (which we will furnish the mayor and the council already addressed) we will then dispatch our superintendent there to find out what the trouble is at once. Respectfully submitted,

E. H. HOAGLAND,

Mgr. Street Lighting Dept.

Matter is Discussed.

Alderman Jones moved that the mayor be directed to contract with the company with the basis of the proposition.

Alderman Stoddard—"That proposition don't mean the large burners. It means the small burners as it reads there."

Alderman Jones—"That calls for the large burner. The small burner is called the 'tip' and the large one the 'plate.' The matter is perfectly understood."

The motion was then adopted all voting aye.

Alderman Jones—"The clerk has this contract in his possession and it might be well to read it now. It is not long."

The clerk then read the contract.

Alderman Kothman—"By this contract the city had to furnish the posts. I understood that the company was to furnish the posts."

Mayor Thoroughgood—"Not at that price. The lamps are 75 cents less where the city furnishes the posts."

Alderman Kothman said that many of the posts would have to be removed.

Alderman Burnham—"In that case the company pays all the expense."

Many Orders Adopted.

The following orders were adopted:

By Alderman Burnham—Directing the mayor and city clerk to sign the warrant for the collection of the city taxes, and the same when so signed be placed in the hands of the city treasurer for collection.

Mayor Thoroughgood appointed as such committee Aldermen Stoddard, McKee, Rice, Kothman and Jones.

By Ald. Milmore—An order directing the street commissioner to repair Lincoln street under the supervision of the aldermen of the ward. Adopted.

HE MADE THEM SURRENDER

Former Beloit Resident Has a Queer Experience in Chicago

Dr. W. L. Jaynes of Chicago, formerly a resident of Beloit, and his mother and aunt, the two latter of whom live at that city, had an unpleasant experience in Chicago.

Dr. W. L. Jaynes is a member of the Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor. He attended the Christian Endeavor convention at San Francisco and when the religious assembly adjourned took a trip through Mexico.

In one of the Mexican hamlets he bought a hat, and it was the piece of headwear that caused the trouble. It is three feet long, one foot in height, and constructed of light Mexican straw. Dr. Jaynes returned to Chicago with the hat. He, with his aunt and mother, boarded a West Madison street owl car for the home of a friend. Dr. Jaynes took a seat in the rear end of the car, and directly across from him were three young men, who were putting a final touch to a night of jubilation.

When they saw Dr. Jaynes wearing his Mexican purchase they burst into a fit of laughter which attracted general attention to the hat.

At Center avenue the young men left their seats and stepped upon the rear platform. There they held a short conversation, and then one of them suddenly reached into the car, and, grasping Dr. Jaynes' hat, jumped into the street. Dr. Jaynes was on his feet in a moment, and like a flash he darted from the car. Then he whipped out his revolver and fired three shots at the retreating young men. More volleys followed and finally the fugitives dropped the hat, and holding up their hands implored Dr. Jaynes not to shoot them.

Officer Patrick Nagle of the Desplaines street police station soon arrived on the scene, and disarmed Dr. Jaynes. When he turned to arrest the young men, however, they had fled. Dr. Jaynes was informed that he was under arrest, and he readily agreed to go to the police station.

Pianos and Organs, Janesville, Wis.:
Dear Sir:—We purchased a Braumuller Piano about five years ago and can truthfully say that I take pleasure in stating that it has given the most perfect satisfaction in our home. Its capacity for standing in tune is certainly wonderful! and the tone today is as good if not better than the day we bought it, and would recommend it to any one wanting a first-class Piano.
Respectfully Yours,

WHAT MAN DOES NOT LOVE BEAUTY?

Mrs. Pinkham Counsels Young Wives to Keep Their Attractiveness. A Letter From a Young Wife.

Seven-eighths of the men in this world marry a woman because she is beautiful in their eyes.

What a disappointment then to see the fair young wife's beauty fading away before a year passes over her head!

I feel as if I would like to say to every young woman who is about to be married— "Strengthen yourself in advance, so that you will not break down under the new strain on your powers." Keep your beauty, it is a precious possession! Your husband loves your beauty, he is proud to be seen in public with you; try to keep it for his sake, and your own.

The pale cheeks, the dark shadows under the eyes, the general drooping of the young wife's form, what do they mean? They mean that her nerves are failing, that her strength is going and that something must be done to help her through the coming trials of maternity.

Build her up at once by a course of some tonic with specific powers. Such as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. You can get it at any druggist's.

Following we publish by request a letter from a young wife—of her own accord she addresses it to her "suffering sisters," and while from modesty she asks to withhold her name, she gives her initials and street number in Chambersburg, Pa., so she can easily be found personally or by letter:

To my Suffering Sisters:—Let me write this for your benefit, telling you what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. I am but nineteen and suffered with painful menstruation, leucorrhoea, dizziness, burning sensation back of ears and on top of my head, nervousness, pain and soreness of muscles, bearing-down pains, could not sleep well, was unable to stand without pain, and oh! how I longed to be well!

One day I wrote to Mrs. Pinkham telling her all, knowing I could do so in perfect confidence.

She wrote me a lovely letter in reply, telling me exactly what to do. After taking nine bottles of the Compound, one box of Liver pills, and using one-half package of Sanative wash, I can say I am cured. I am so happy, and owe my happiness to none other than Mrs. Pinkham.

Why will women suffer when help is near? Let me, as one who has had some experience, urge all suffering women, especially young wives, to seek Mrs. Pinkham's advice.—Mrs. R. S. R., 113 E. Catherine St., Chambersburg, Pa.

ELASTIC STARCH has been before the people of the United States for twenty-three years and is without doubt the greatest starch invention of the Nineteenth Century. Last year its sale reached the unprecedented number of twenty million packages. It is prepared upon scientific principles by men who have had years of practical experience in fancy laundrying. It makes ironing easy, restores old summer dresses to their natural whiteness, and imparts to linen a beautiful and lasting finish. It is the only starch manufactured that is perfectly harmless, containing neither arsenic, alum, or any other substance injurious to linen, and can be used even as a baby powder.

EMERALD GROVE STACKS BURN

Bolt of Lightning Caused the Fire—Other News Notes

Emerald Grove, Aug. 10.—During the thunder storm Monday morning two stacks of straw were struck by lightning on the Goodrich farm and burned. The straw was owned by the tenant, Sever Larson. W. J. Clark on the Janesville road, lost a hog about two weeks ago. Have you seen it? Judging from indications potatoes will be a light crop in this locality. Tobacco is being topped in some places and never looked better. The W. A. Dean and W. J. Jones families intend to camp this week at Turtle Lake. James Hadden sold and shipped to Richmond county last week, a registered short horned Durham heifer at a very satisfactory price. Mr. Hadden makes a specialty of this grade of cattle, and thoroughly understand his business. Mr. and Mrs. John Hedditch, also Mr. and Mrs. R. Davis of Park Rapids, Mich., were very pleasant callers in the village last week. J. R. Lamb has purchased two cars of feeding cattle. They will be fed in "Hickory Grove" until Spring. The ladies' auxiliary will meet with Mrs. D. E. Jones, this week Thursday. A full attendance is desired. People say Frank Coulter has mastered the bicycle. Irving Dennis photographed the eclipse, on July 28, and has it on exhibition in his case at the gallery.

He Could Dodge.

"There's nothing slow about Jones," he said, reflectively.

The other laughed scornfully.

"I guess you never loaned him any money," he said.

"Oh, yes, I have," replied the first speaker. "That's what made me speak that way. I loaned him ten dollars six months ago and I haven't been able to catch him since."—Chicago Post.

Abbreviating a Name.

"Did I hear you call that man Billson?"

"You did."

"But I've always understood his name was Williamson."

"It is, but we are old friends and nicknames always go with us."—Chicago Post.

An Unreasonable Woman.

"No," he replied, firmly, "times are hard, and we can't afford to have a divorce this year."

Thereupon the unreasonable woman wept violently and accused him of loving her less than he had loved his former wives.—Detroit Journal.

An Attainment.

"It's untrue," said Willie Washington, "that it is impossible for a man to attain perfection."

"Who has reached that stage?"

"I have. Miss Cayenne informed me this morning that I am a perfect bore."—Washington Star.

And Yet Men Will Marry.

Mrs. Henpeck (reading paper)—I see that the male slaves in Brazil number over 600,000.

Mr. Henpeck—Is that all? Why, I had no idea that there were so few married men in such a populous country!—N. Y. World.

An Unexpected Answer.

Mrs. Bob Tayl—Bob, what did you mean by talking in your sleep last night about chips and three of a kind?

B. Tayl—Why, we had been playing poker at the club all the evening.—Harlem Life.

What It Resembled.

Guest—Are you sure this is a genuine tenderloin steak?

Waiter—Certainly, sir. What did you think it was?

Guest—I thought perhaps it was another case of burning in effigy.—N. Y. Truth.

Reason for It.

Mrs. Lumpty-Tump—I don't see why the Dinkey-Dinks should be so stuck up. They have no family connections.

Lumpty-Tump—You forget, my dear, that Dinkey-Dink made his money in glue.—Philadelphia North American.

Wire to the Klondyke.

Ottawa, Ont., Aug. 10.—The dominion government has made application to the United States government to be permitted to build a telegraph line from a navigable point on Linn canal, Alaska, to Tagish, across the summit, a distance of nearly a hundred miles, so that communication may be had with the interior of the Yukon all the year around. This would place the Klondyke within a couple of weeks' travel of communication with the outside world. So far no reply has been received from Washington.

Tried to Burn Down the Town.

Scott, Kas., Aug. 10.—A third attempt by incendiaries to burn the town of Moran, a place of 1,000 people, in Allen county, almost proved successful Sunday night. Eight business buildings were destroyed and the loss is estimated from $25,000 to $30,000. For some time there has existed a feeling between some of the rough element of the town and the business men, and the motive is supposed to be revenge.

A Conflict

of Evidence...

This is another remarkable story from the pen of Rodriguez Ottolengui, who wrote "An Artist in Crime," conceded to be the strongest detective tale that has appeared in years. "A Conflict of Evidence" will add to the reputation of Mr. Ottolengui and will fascinate all who have the opportunity to read it. We have provided for the readers of this paper by purchasing the serial rights. The first chapters will soon be printed.

COMMON SENSE CURE.

Pyramid Pile Cure Cures Piles Permanently by Curing the Cause.

Remarkable Remedy Which is Bringing Comfort to Thousands of Sufferers.

Probably half the people who see this article suffer from piles. It is one of the commonest diseases and one of the most obstinate. People have it for years and just because it is not immediately fatal they neglect it. Carelessness causes no end of suffering. Carelessness about so simple a thing as piles has often caused death. Hemorrhages occur from no apparent cause and loss of blood causes death. Hemorrhages occur during surgical treatment, often causing death.

Piles are simple in the beginning and easily cured. They can be cured even in the worst stages, without pain or loss of blood, quickly, surely and completely. There is only one remedy that will do it—Pyramid Pile Cure.

It allays the inflammation immediately, heals the irritated surface and with continued treatment reduces the swelling and puts the membranes into good, sound, healthy condition. The cure is thorough and permanent.

Here are some voluntary and unsolicited testimonials that we have lately received: Mrs. M. C. Hinkly, 601 Mississippi St., Indianapolis, Ind., says: Have been a sufferer from the pain and annoyance of Piles for fifteen years, the Pyramid Pile Cure and Pyramid Pills gave me immediate relief and in a short time a complete cure.

Major Dean, of Columbus, Ohio, says: I wish to add to the number of certificates as to the benefits derived from Pyramid Pile Cure. I suffered from Piles for forty years and from itching piles for twenty years and two boxes of the Pyramid Pile Cure has effectually cured me.

Most druggists sell Pyramid Pile Cure or will get it for you if you ask them to. It is one dollar per package and is put up only by the Pyramid Drug Co., Albion, Mich.

ARQUETTE IS HELD IN BONDS OF $800

MUST ANSWER TO THE CHARGE MADE.

In Default of Bail He Was Taken Back to Jail To Remain Until the Case Comes Up Again--Mrs. Eva Diehl's Case Adjourned, So That She May Leave.

In default of $800 bail, John Arquette will continue to linger behind the bars of the Rock County jail until Wednesday, August 18, at 10 o'clock a. m.

In charge of Sheriff Acheson the prisoner was arranged in the municipal court this morning to answer to an information filed against him charging him with receiving goods that he knew to be stolen. Arquette denied all knowledge, and his examination was set for August 18. In default of $800 bonds he was taken back to jail.

That the police have a good case against Arquette now seems to be the opinion of knowing ones. Detective Casey of the St. Paul road, who closely examined the alleged stolen articles last evening, says that it will mean a hot time for Mr. Arquette sooner or later.

The police expect that the prisoner may turn state evidence and tell all he knows.

Mrs. Diehl Leaves.

Mrs. Eva Diehl's time as a resident of Rock county is limited. This morning when she was arranged in the municipal court she was given the strongest kind of a hint to pick up her belongings here and "get out"--not only out of the city but out of the county as well.

Benjamin Dixon, who was arrested at the same time pleaded guilty when arranged and was sentenced to jail for fifteen days.

Attorney John Cunningham appeared for the prisoner while District Attorney Jackson prosecuted. Mrs. Diehl pleaded not guilty but Dixon who had weighed the matter more carefully owned up. The court then adjourned Mrs. Diehl's case until Nov. 1. On the giving of $100 bail she was allowed to go her way--the route leading out of Rock county being clearly indicated by the authorities.

Frank Williams, of Orford, whose singing on the depot platform at that village displeased the night watchman, pleaded guilty, and was fined $1 and costs. The watchman caused Williams' arrest, but he came to town of his own accord, and pleaded guilty, he said, to "save trouble."

TO RESTRAIN THE BOARD

Injunction Will Be Asked Before End of Week by Beloit Folk.

Before the end of the week Jackson & Jackson will ask Judge Bennett in the circuit court for a temporary injunction restraining the Beloit school board from erecting a school house on the Bullock site. At the same time, probably, there will be served on members of the board, a complaint in a suit for a permanent injunction restraining them from ever constructing a building on the site selected.

The residents of Beloit who are back of this suit are as anxious as anyone that the school facilities be increased as rapidly as possible but they declare it should not be done by ring methods that thwart the wishes of those who are directly interested. The contention of those who are opposed to the action of the meeting is that the meeting was illegally called, illegally held and the proceedings were therefore void. The special statute under which school meetings are held prescribe that they take place on the last Monday in July. The meeting, however, was held on the first Monday in July.

Money is being raised by subscription to pay the expense of the suit. The whole matter will be determined in the courts and not until a decision is reached, will it be finally decided.

A DISPUTE OVER TURKEYS

Causes the Arrest of Peter Salvason, but He Clears Himself.

A dispute over the ownership of some turkeys was the cause of the arrest of Peter Salvason. He was arraigned before Justice of the Peace Kendall of Beloit, and after a few witnesses had testified was discharged, on motion of his attorney. Salvason lives in Newark. One of his neighbors about half a mile distant is Ann Kelly. The latter was the complaining witness. She claimed that Peter stole nine turkeys from her flock. The testimony offered showed that Salvason let his turkeys run loose in the woods. Recently Peter lost three old and twenty young turkeys. He recovered nine of them running about in the woods and Mrs. Kelly at once claimed that they were hers. Peter proved his ownership by several witnesses and was thereupon dismissed.

SUIT BECAUSE OF BOARD BILL

Mrs. Harriet E. Mitchell Brings An Action Against Dr. H. H. Dickenson.

Dr. H. H. Dickenson, formerly of this city but now of Lead, South Dakota, is the defendant in a suit that is being tried before Justice Patten, Mrs. Harriet E. Mitchell being the plaintiff. Mrs. Mitchell claims the doctor owes her $112 for board and nurse to recover. Dr. Dickinson says he has done enough dental work to balance the account, so Justice Patten will arbitrate the matter. M. P. Richardson appears for Mrs. Mitchell, and L. M. Smith for Dr. Dickinson.

THIRD ward people are asking why the new cement sidewalk through the park could not have been built on a line with the walks on South Bluff street, instead of coming out ten or twelve feet below the crosswalk. The removal of one tree might have been necessary, although they could have gotten around it by making a small curve. As it is now, the walk will be an eye-sore.

BIKE IT TO BELOIT TO GET CIGARETTES

LOCAL YOUTHS MUST HAVE THEM.

Now That the Local Dealers Have Raised the Price, the Young Men Ride Wheels to the Line City and Get Them at Wholesale Prices in Quantities.

As long as cigarettes are made, they will be smoked.

Dealers and populace may frown upon them alike, and stringent laws may be passed, yet "cotton nails" will still contaminate the air with their foul smell.

If the boys cannot buy 'em here, they will buy 'em where they can.

The local dealers thought they had dealt the cigarette a body blow when they signed an agreement raising the price to eight cents a package, and as they all got in line, it was thought that the consumption of the things would be reduced. However, young men appeared on the streets behind the paper tubes the same as of old.

And they didn't pay eight cents a package for them.

Then the truth became known.

The cigarette smokers of this city do not seem to be discouraged by the action of the local dealers.

Yesterday afternoon two local cyclists wheeled in from Beloit, halting at the corner of Main and Milwaukee streets. Tied to the handle bars of their wheels were two good sized paper boxes--each of which contained one hundred boxes of cigarettes.

"These cigarettes were purchased of a Beloit dealer," remarked one of the party to a Gazette man, "and you can just make a note of the fact that we bought them at wholesale prices, or four cents a package. Just as long as the wheeling keeps good just so long will we go to Beloit for our cigarettes."

The paper tubes, it seems, have a great fascination for the youths of the town, and unless Beloit dealers get in line, they will, apparently, be used as much as ever.

ARE YOU IN FAVOR OF HOLDING A FAIR?

SECRETARY M'KEY ASKS THE QUESTION.

Mails Circulars with Postal Cards For Reply to the Stockholders and Local Merchants--It Is Not Yet Too Late To Begin, He Thinks--Asks For Premiums.

Do the stockholders of the Rock County Agricultural society favor the holding of a county fair in Janesville this fall?

If so, now is their time to speak.

Secretary George M. McKey has issued circulars to the stockholders, which were forwarded to them through the mails today.

These circulars are accompanied by reply postals, the object being first to have each stockholder express an opinion.

The questions asked are whether or not the persons favor the giving of a fair and if so what will they donate to be used as a premium.

Secretary McKey says it is not yet too late to begin and successfully carry out such an undertaking, and if it was necessary, the fair could be held later than the regular date. The financial trouble that the society is now passing through would not, it is said, interfere with the giving of a fair here this summer.

SOLVED AT LAST.

The Wheels Were Not of the Same Make.

For four days the coroner's jury had listened patiently to every scrap of testimony that could be brought forward, and shrewd detectives had followed all possible clues, says the Detroit News. All that was known was that the bodies of the two men had been found beside the road, locked together in death's embrace. There were signs of a terrific struggle all about, the clothes of both men were torn and disarranged, both were badly bruised and their faces were distorted with demoniac hatred. Both had been identified, but no one could be found who had ever seen the two together in life, and so far as could be learned they had never been acquainted. The only tenable theory as to the cause of the tragedy was that some deadly feud existed between them and that their long smouldering anger was fanned into flame when they had met in the road, but where and when they had known each other and what had been the nature of their quarrel seemed likely to remain forever shrouded in mystery. The jury was about to return a valueless verdict, reciting merely the fact of the finding of their bodies, when Burdock Bones, the indolent son of the tavern-keeper, stumbled into the room where the good men and true were sitting. He asked to be sworn, and with a look of superior wisdom took the stand. After some preliminary questioning he told his story. "Having trained myself to observe the most minute details," he remarked, with careful imitation of Dr. Doyle's hero, "I formed no theory of the case until I had made a thorough examination of the scene of the crime. Near where you"—addressing the coroner—"found the ham sandwich, supposed to have been dropped from the pocket of one of the deceased, I discovered a small piece of thin sheet rubber. I immediately concluded that one or both of the dead men had ridden a bicycle, and that the rubber came from a repair kit. Looking about for the spot where a man would be most likely to stop to mend a puncture, I found, ten rods up the road from the spot where the bodies lay, a large rock under the shade of the only tree of any size within half a mile. Behind this rock between it and the fence, I found, as I had expected, two bicycles.

"There, gentlemen, I think that makes the case tolerably clear—even to you," he added, as he noticed the looks of increasing interest on the faces of his auditors.

"But what—" began the coroner. "Perhaps I ought to mention," interrupted Burdock, "that the two wheels were not of the same make."

Why She Was Sorry.

"Let us kiss and make up!" As he spoke he made a step forward. The young girl hesitated a moment and then fell into his outstretched arms.

It had been only a lovers' quarrel, but while it lasted they had been both very unhappy. As they remained in each other's embrace they felt moved by different emotions. He felt that while he had been in the right, he yet might have been rather hasty. Besides he loved the girl, and that should have made him more considerate, even though she had been entirely in the wrong.

She, too, was sorry. But it was not because they had quarreled, for her womanly intuition told her that he loved her, and would be only too happy to be reconciled.

To kiss and make up was the supreme bliss to him. But to her it was different. The kissing part was all right enough, but as she slipped coyly out of his arms and noticed that the collar of his coat was covered with lily-white and rouge she was sorry she had ever made up.

"Mike," said Plooding Pete, "I'm gointer be good." "What fur?" "Cause I'm afraid o' goin' ter jail." "Why, dat's a nice, restful place." "It uster be. But look what's happenin'! Dey're talkin' about sendin' brokers an' capitalists dere. If dat happens dey'll send hotel clerks ter keep 'em good natured when dey gets ter kickin' about der rooms; an' dere'll be bell boys rushin' around wit pitchers of ice water, an' company an' customers comin' in hacks, dat dere'll be no livin' dere. I'd almost as soon work meself as ter see so many people kep' hustlin'."—Washington Star.

Big Turtle.

A tropical leather-back turtle weighing 685 pounds got astray into Chesapeake bay a few days ago and was captured by some stout fishermen. It is six feet five inches long and three feet eight inches broad. The shell is black and rather soft, like leather and seven longitudinal ridges run down the back from head to tail. The captors are keeping it for some museum or aquarium.

A Trying Situation.

"How is it that you are always in debt? You ought to be ashamed of yourself." "Come, now; don't be too hard on a fellow; you would perhaps be in debt, too, if you were in my place." "What place?" "Able to get credit."—Tid-Bits.

AS TO PLAGIARISM.

The Eternal Cry About It Is Becoming Intolerable.

One of the sad things connected with the literary success is the opportunity that it always gives some one to raise the cry of plagiarism, says the Cleveland Leader. No successful man of letters from Homer down has escaped and a miraculous phase of the thing is that the victim is usually accused of stealing from somebody that the world has never heard of and whose work could never under any circumstances be considered worth bothering over. Shakespeare, of course, stole all his ideas and got his style from somebody whose name we have forgotten; Pope was a plagiarist; Byron was a notorious literary thief; Longfellow, as everybody knows, was a mere pick-pocket, and now comes a writer in the Critic with the following arraignment of Rudyard Kipling:

"In Mr. Kipling's book, 'The Seven Seas,' I have found what seems to be an unmistakable trace of the American poet, I refer to the poem 'Bill 'Awkins,' which runs like this: "'As I ody seen Bill 'Awkins?"

Now, how in the devil would I know? 'Es taken my girl out walkin'.

An' I've got to tell him so—

Gawd bless—'im!

I've got to tell him so."

"It was some time before the 'Barack Room Ballads' were first heard of that a young man of my acquaintance, who lived in New Orleans, used to chant this ditty:

"Have any o' yo' seen my Lulu?"

How in de debil would you know her?"

I'd know her by her apurnstrings

'N' her shoestrings a-hangin' on de flo'.

Gol darn her!

'N' her shoestrings a-hangin' on de flo'."

Isn't it just terrible! To go like a thief in the night and steal such a sweet gem as that and then to hold it up to the world as a child thought from his own brain makes us shudder for Mr. Kipling! What furies must be awaiting him! Rudyard Kipling will surely be punished here or hereafter, not only for his plagiarizing, but for having ever written "Bill 'Awkins," which, as the accompanying extract shows, is wholly uncalled for and about as bad a specimen of poetry as could be found in a day's search.

But this everlasting cry of plagiarism is becoming intolerable. Every man who writes is a plagiarist if we want to make him one. Every word and almost every combination of words that he employs has been used before. If he writes in verse he cannot possibly find a new meter every time he takes up his pen and the chances are about a hundred to one that every idea he puts forth has been exploited by somebody else. Every man is in some sense a copy of somebody that has gone before him. Nature is simply a vast repetition and every fool that arises to denounce some genius as a plagiarist is simply plagiarizing some former fool who accused some other genius. It is time to gag the fools.

A Sparrow Prima Donna.

Monsieur Mingaud, a naturalist of Nimes, France, gives in La Revue Scientifique, an interesting account of the musical accomplishments of a sparrow in his collection of living birds. He captured the sparrow soon after it had been hatched, and fed it by hand until it would care for itself. Then he placed it in a cage containing a chaffinch, a gold finch and two canaries. After a time the sparrow learned to warble like the finches and to trill like the canaries, the imitations being so perfect as to deceive the ear. In spring Monsieur Mingaud is accustomed to keep a box of crickets near his bird cages. Two days after the crickets had been placed near the cage containing the sparrow the latter began to imitate their cry, intermingling it with songs. Even after the crickets had been dead the sparrow remembered its lesson, and continued to repeat their cry. None of the other birds attempted to imitate the crickets. Singularly enough, the sparrow never utters the peculiar quavering cry of its own species, having been removed from its nest too early, apparently, to have learned it.

Handicapping Father Time.

Stranger—You say I can start here from Macon Wednesday and get to New Orleans on Tuesday of the same week. How can that happen. Ticket Agent—Well, you see, when you start you go by the time as it's laid down in the almanac. When you get to about half way to New Orleans, however, the company adopts the old style of reckoning time—the Georgian calendar I believe they call it. A fellow goes back ten or twelve days, but the company had to do it to make the trip in anything like decent time.—New York World.

Making Money Go.

"You know," she said with a little asperity, "that women have the reputation of being able to make money go further than men?" CATCHING THE FIRST FISH.

If all the great anglers who are now beginning to make ready for a summer and fall of satisfactory sport could only bring themselves back to the days when they were not such successful disciples of the "gentle art," and would tell the story of the first fish that ever came to their hook, some narratives without parallel would be given to the world.

The writer of this has never come to be much of a fisherman, so he violates no confidence and imperils no reputation by openly avowing that his first catch was a minnow—"minnie" in those days—and it was taken in an old straw hat after a brief pursuit in the placid waters of the Desplaines river, eventually being consigned to an amateur aquarium, along with a painted turtle as big as a quarter and two very small crayfish. This was the only really true story of a "first fish" on record until Mr. Bradnock Hall published a book called "Fish Tales, and Some True Ones," which opens up a number of possibilities in regard to the subject sufficient to form a new chapter in piscatorial annals.

There was once a boy who was very anxious indeed to become a fisherman. He had associated with him a number of other boys animated by the same desire. They lived near a stream which was known to be filled with large salmon. It was also known that there were a number of men who did little or nothing but see that the boys did not fish for the salmon.

Well, upon a certain day this boy and the other boys were a good way up this salmon stream and there were no keepers visible in any direction. As they were crossing a bridge over the stream the boy happened to look down, and there, just beneath him, was a salmon that looked as big as a behemoth. No one had a hook and line in that juvenile party, but the boy saw a big bowlder a little way off. With considerable assistance he persuaded the rock over the side of the bridge, the fish obligingly waited a moment too long for his health—and then he proudly waded in and caught his first fish. It weighed 15 pounds.

Another boy went over to the house of a friend of his father's to learn how to fish in a pretty little pond there was on the property. His father had never fished, but he managed to scare up a hook that was almost big enough for sharks, a long hank of cod line, or its equivalent, a dozen champagne corks, and the boy knew where there was a dead sparrow and on the way over caught a frog, which died before he arrived.

The boy did not find his father's friend in the least glad to see him. He was busy, for one thing, and there had not been a fish worth looking at in that particular pond for a term of years. So, to get rid of the boy on the easiest terms, he tied the corks together and the hook with them, placed the expired frog thereon, fastened everything to the line, tied that to a tree, and told the boy to watch those corks and not say a word to him until they had been under water at least five minutes. Then he went back to the house with a good conscience.

In less than an hour that boy came running in to say that he thought something might be caught, for the corks had been under water for ever so long. The two went back together, and there was a ten pound pike. And that was this boy's first fish.

This last isn't a boy, but a woman. She had never tried to catch anything like a fish; but her husband was a clever angler, and she was a great deal more willing to learn than he was to teach her. He had gotten out of it on one pretext or another until one day their maid servant disappeared and there was nothing for them to do but close up the house and run down to the seashore until their household could be completed once more. They had very few miles to go, and on their way they stopped at the girl's home—her name was Mary Ann—only to ascertain that she had not been there.

The next day the woman and her husband hired a boat and sailed out into the bay. There was pollock and mackerel, and the man got his share of them and something more, for his wife did not catch a thing. Presently her line made fast, and strive as she might she could not draw it in. Finally, much against her will, she had to appeal to her husband for help. As she had expected, he derided her, saying that it was a pity after a woman had waited years for a fish she could not land it without masculine assistance, and he came to her aid after he had had his say, and they slowly but surely brought her first catch to the surface of the water. She caught one glimpse of it and fainted dead away. It was Mary Ann.

The Holder of a Record.

A Little More Cost Brings Big Profits.

The addressing, folding, inclosing, sealing and stamping of five thousand circulars, with postage, will cost at least $65, whether the circular is good or bad. Notwithstanding this fixed charge, some strive to save a dollar or two on the cost of printing, although the goods advertised are to be judged by the character of the printing, just as a house is judged by the character of its salesmen. Good printing costs but little more, and that "little more" brings greater returns than any other part of the cost. Order your printing where good work is assured.

SAKHALIN AND ITS COAL.

Prison Life Is Harder Than in Siberia.

Sakhalin is, for administrative purposes, divided into three districts, viz.: Korsakovsky post in the south, Tysimovsk in the north and Alexandrovsky post on the western coast. The latter, which is situated in the center of the coal district, is a picturesque, straggling town of about 7,000 inhabitants, consisting almost entirely of officials and convicts. This is the most important penal settlement on the island, containing the largest prison, and is, moreover, the residence of the governor of Sakhalin, a subordinate of the governor-general of eastern Siberia. Alexandrovsky is garrisoned by about 1,500 men, and contains large foundries and workshops for convict labor, but most of the prisoners are employed in the adjacent coal mines of Dul. The coal is excellent for steaming purposes, but owing to the difficulties of transport that at present exist, somewhat dear, and it cannot now be delivered for less than 12 rubles per ton at Vladivostok. The output in 1890 was 2,400,000 tons. Korsakovsky post on the southern coast is the next largest settlement, containing about 5,000 convicts, who are chiefly employed in agricultural pursuits. Although it may seem a paradox, the remaining prisons in the interior of the island—Derbyskaya, Rykovskaya and Onor—are not prisons at all, but huge wooden barracks, innocent of bolts or bars. Here, also, the work done is solely agricultural. Prison life at Sakhalin is undoubtedly harder than on the mainland of Siberia, but, on the other hand, the actual confinement is of much shorter duration. There are three classes of prisoners, viz.: 1. Convicts who, having served their time in prison, are free to live in a certain district and earn their own livelihood. 2. Convicts confined in prison and compelled to work in the mines, foundries, or at agricultural labor. 3. Convicts confined to prison in chains.

SOME SENSIBLE MEN.

Twelve years ago the bricklayers of New York were working ten hours a day. Their wages ranged from three to four dollars during the summer, but were much lower in the winter. Moreover, they were seldom paid promptly. "Bosses" were often unreasonable, and the men had no redress. The employers, on their part, found the men quick to resent even a fancied injury, and prompt to strike.

The bricklayers now work only eight hours, and receive four dollars a day all the year round. Their wages are paid when due, their grievances are investigated and redressed; and the contractors, secure against loss from strikes, and served by competent and contented men, pay the increased wages cheerfully. The story of this remarkable change is an impressive chapter in the history of the struggle between labor and capital.

The summer of 1884 was marked by a long and bitter strike of the bricklayers. Out of this strike arose an organization of contractors known as the Mason Builders' Association, the objects of which, as stated in its constitution, were, "To adopt measures for the better protection of employers and employees; * * * to arbitrate all differences, and so avoid the great evil of strikes."

Beginning thus, with a frank acknowledgment of the rights of their employees and an equally frank assertion of their own, the mason builders found the bricklayers ready to meet them half way. The result was an agreement by which wages were fixed for one year, and a board was established, consisting of five men from each side, to which all grievances were to be submitted. In case of a disagreement an umpire was to be chosen, whose decision should be final.

At first the board met weekly and had many cases before it. But as time went on and both parties discovered that the board administered justice impartially, the business declined. After one year the board discontinued its weekly meetings, and met only at the call of the chair.

During the first two or three years the leaders of the bricklayers had difficulty in keeping their followers in line, many of the men thinking the "bosses" were getting the better of them; but as concession after concession was granted, and wages increased and the hours of labor shortened, even the most turbulent spirits acknowledged that they were accomplishing by peaceful methods, and without the loss of a day's pay, what they had failed to win by strikes, with their attendant evils of idleness and want. No measure to propose a return to the methods in vogue previous to 1885.

Since that time no strike has occurred, nor has it been necessary to call in the umpire for whom provision was made in the constitution. Is there anything in the relations between the Mason Builders' Association and the bricklayers of New York which is impossible to employers and employees in other trades and in every city?

THE CARE OF BOOKS.

Children Should Be Taught Early to Love These Precious Possessions.

When we were children we were taught that it was next door to a crime to destroy books. Of course, books are not as expensive or as hard to get now as they were a quarter of a century ago, but all the same they are too valuable to waste or throw away, declares the New York Ledger.

Children should be taught how best to take care of books and ought never to be permitted to throw or bang them about or tear them in pieces. They should be encouraged to accumulate volumes, and to do this must have a place in which to keep them. Good, plain book shelves cost but little, and every child should have a set.

In one well ordered household there are five youngsters, between the ages of 5 and 15 years. Each child has a bookcase, one of the ordinary, plain sort that cost $4 or $5. There are curtains made from the skirts of worn-out dresses or of paper muslin, for the family has but little of this world's goods to use, and every dollar, even every cent, has to be counted. But there is in this household a spirit of consideration that will not allow interference with private property, and each member is expected to take care of his or her own possessions, to be responsible for them and to exercise absolute control and ownership over them. Especially is it the case with books and tops. These are borrowed and loaned only with the owner's consent. New books are carefully covered and marked with the owner's name, not only on the cover, but also across the first page of the story or reading matter. Names on the flyleaf may be obliterated or torn off, but when placed across the beginning of the subject matter they are apt to remain and are easily identified.

PERFUME IN OLDEN TIMES.

Ancient Philosophers Condemned Fragrant Unguents as Effeminate.

The use of perfume was indulged in to such an extravagant degree by the ancients that some of the more ascetic men had good reason to denounce it, states the London Society. Solon issued an edict prohibiting its sale in Athens. Julius Caesar and Lucianus, who were Roman consuls in 565, published a law forbidding the sale of exotics in that city and by the laws of Lycurgus perfumers were expelled from Sparta as being wasters of oil and encouragers of sensuousness. Clearchus wrote against the excessive use of unguents and Socrates declaimed against them in strong terms, preferring, he said, "the smell of healthy toil and the perfume of a good and manly life." It was customary at festivals to pass around to the guests perfumes served in alabaster boxes and vessels of gold. At one of these feasts Cynulcus, who loved to deride the youth for the use of perfumes, was made a butt for their ridicule. Some mischievous youth anointed the cynic with much ointment, pouring it lavishly over his head and face. When he awoke he exclaimed in an angry voice: "What is this? Oh, Hercules, will not some one come with a sponge and wipe my face, which is thus polluted with a lot of dirt?" At the Syrian banquets it was usual for the slaves to come in with bladders full of Babylonian perfumes and bedew the garlands and walls and hangings and fill the halls with delicious fragrance. In some of the more modern feasts statues and ornaments were provided with jets which threw out diluted essences and attars.

I would be shirking my duty to humanity if I neglected to tell how much Dr. Hobbs' Kidney Pills have helped me. For about eight years I was a sufferer from pains in the back and rheumatism in my hips, at times so bad that I was compelled to keep in bed. Every kind of remedy suggested by my friends was tried without satisfactory results. The old troubles would return with renewed vigor. At last I heard of the wonders performed by Dr. Hobbs' Sparagus Kidney Pills and procured some of C. D. Stevens, the druggist. The result of their use is that my back now feels strong, the pains have gone, and I am entirely free from rheumatism. I cannot command words strong enough with which to praise this remedy. P. J.
